

Copresco reminds you that...

Your Job Isn't Over Until It Is Finally Delivered

Can you believe it? UPS and FedEx are playing the Grinch again this season with annual rounds of price increases.

Net 4.9% Increases

UPS ground, air and international rates will increase an average net 4.9%.

FedEx ground rate prices will also rise 4.9%.

A New Twist

Both shippers have added a new wrinkle: Dimensional Weight Pricing.

In response to shippers like Amazon, there will be a surcharge on bulky packages, based on their size and weight.

If you have the courage and infinite patience, you can get further details on the UPS and FedEx websites.

Stress Relief

Our long-standing relationships with trucking firms are invaluable assets. Copresco looks at all aspects of your job and asks these important questions:

- Can we combine your project with another shipment to save on less-than-truckload (LTL) pricing?

- Do you really need delivery by 7 a.m. tomorrow, or is later in the day acceptable? A few hours' difference can make a big difference in your shipping charges.

- Where will your project wind up? Will it be sent to one location or multiple destinations?

We can make partial shipments to specified destinations as soon as the required number of your books or publications are ready.

Jim had been told since he was a boy how his father, his grandfather and his great grandfather had walked on water on their 21st birthdays. When his 21st birthday arrived in July, he vowed to do the same. He and his girlfriend sailed their boat to the middle of the lake, and Jim stepped overboard. He went straight in over his head, coming up gasping and humiliated. "It's my 21st birthday," Jim complained later to his grandma. "Why can't I walk on water like my father, his father, and his father before him?" "Sweetheart, you must remember," the old woman said as she comforted him, "they were all born in January."
