

Santa comes through again...

New Tech Tools to Enhance Your Digital Projects

Even though it seems like we just talked about a new digital color press, we won't be surprised if Santa leaves a bigger, brighter package under our tree this holiday season.

Even Better-Looking

St. Nick made our clients happy in 2015 by giving us new tools to make your perfect bound, saddle bound, wire and plastic-coil bound projects look even better.

It's been said that you can't judge a book by its cover. But, we know that everyone still does it.

That's why we have reaffirmed our commitment to give you more beautiful covers for your projects printed in black to full-bleed and full-color process.

Neatly Finished

Copresco's new high-speed scoring system adds that neat and finished appearance to your perfect and saddle bound books, directories, reference guides and other publications.

Color Perfect

We added an XiRite iO Scanning Table that automatically scans our CMYK press sheets to ensure the accuracy and consistent results of your digital color projects.

This may sound a bit like marketing hype, but normally, this sophisticated quality control procedure is only used for large offset presses.

Noteworthy

Congratulations to President Steve Johnson, who won an APEX award for the monthly column he writes for Printing News magazine.

Helpful Info

We gave you instructive guidelines for fighting computer viruses and provided detailed steps on how to avoid proofreading blunders. You will find URLs for both of these topics in the internet box.

Michael LaFranzo of Carmel Montessori School, Steve Johnson and Gail Oberhart show off Box Tops for Education coupons.

We also delivered a strong message that there's still a huge demand for print in today's business world.

Our Sincere Thanks

As Copresco concludes another gratifying year, we thank you again for working with us in our beneficial business partnership.

We wish you a most happy holiday season and look forward to sharing your success in 2016.

Champion Coupon Clippers

Copresco has taken coupon clipping to new heights through a Box Tops for Education fundraising project.

Led by Gail Oberhart and Jessica Pinkous, our employees clipped more than 13,000 Box Top coupons from reams of Boise paper.

Tons upon Tons

Copresco uses tons of paper in producing millions of pages of your publications, books and manuals, so the stacks of coupons added up quickly.

The coupons were donated to Carmel Montessori School in Warrenville and Central Elementary School in Plainfield and redeemed for cash awards.

Fulfilling Dreams

Box Tops for Education has contributed more than $525 million to participating schools since the launch of the program in 1996.

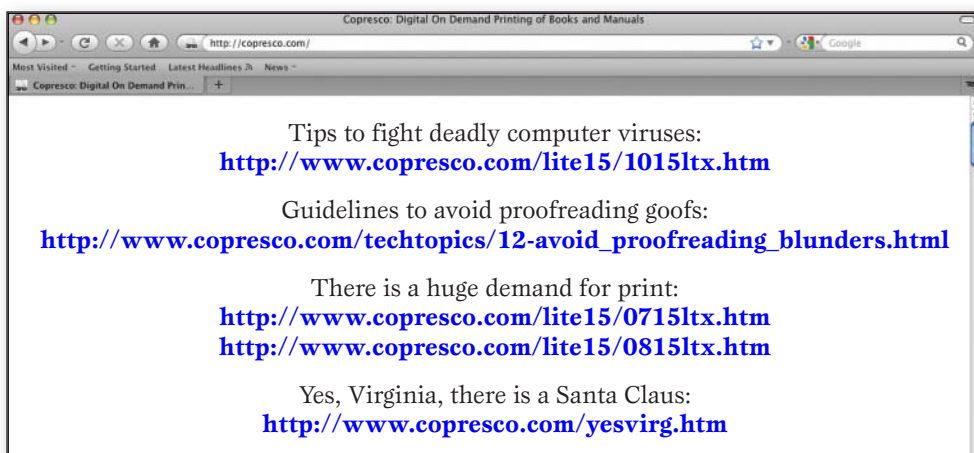

The program has been highly successful in helping schools realize their dreams despite cutbacks and tough economic challenges.

Our Holiday Plans

Copresco will be closed Thursday, December 24 Christmas Eve, Friday Christmas Day, and Friday January 1 New Year's Day.

We'll be open for business as usual Thursday, December 31 New Year's Eve (although we may leave early).

A little old lady, who lived on the third floor of an apartment building, broke her leg. As the doctor put a cast on it, he warned her not to climb any stairs. Several months later, the doctor took off the cast. "Can I climb stairs now?" asked the little old lady. "Yes," he replied. "Thank goodness!" she said. "I'm sick and tired of shinnying up and down that drainpipe!"

If the three Wise Men had been women, they would have asked for directions, arrived on time, helped with the delivery—and brought practical gifts.

Walt Garrison, former Dallas Cowboys running back, was asked if stone-faced coach Tom Landry ever smiled. "I don't know," he answered. "I only played there nine years."

Q. What are elves called?

A. Subordinate Clauses.

Two Eskimos were fishing in the middle of the bay. They got so cold they decided to build a fire in the boat, but the boat itself caught fire and sank. They should have known—you can't have your kayak, and heat it too.

Q. Why is it getting harder to buy Advent calendars?

A. Because their days are numbered!

Help keep the kitchen clean—eat out.

Linemen were busy putting up telephone poles when a farmer ordered them off his land. They showed him a paper giving them the right to plant poles wherever they pleased. Not long afterward the farmer heard screaming and yelling and looked out to find the workers up a tree, trapped by an angry bull. The farmer yelled from the fence, "Show him your papers!"

Q. What do you call a cat in the desert?
A. Sandy Claws!

The best thing to spend on your children is time.

Grandparents: People who think your children are wonderful, even though you're not raising them right.

The psychology professor was quizzing his students. "What would you call someone who walks back and forth laughing and yelling one minute, and then suddenly drops into a chair weeping the next?" One answered, "Coach."

Ultimate blow to the ego: When even your mistakes go unnoticed.
