For Helping Us Take Digital Printing to New Heights

Once again, the jolly old elf dropped off a bag full of valuable presents for Copresco and our clients.

A Real Big One

The first and biggest package we unwrapped was a shiny new Ricoh Pro C9100 digital color press, one of the first to be installed in this country.

Power Packed

This advanced press, supported by our extensive technical skills, combines the exceptional production power and superb image quality that is keeping Copresco on the forefront of on-demand color printing.

Major Industry News

Word spread rapidly through the graphic communications industry that Copresco is now printing sheets up to 27 1/2" long, a major achievement for high-volume printing.

These oblong sheets are perfect for your book covers, dust jackets and six-page brochures.

Limitless Horizons

Digital printing of dust jackets and wraparound covers for album-style books further expand the possibilities for your books and publications.

Other applications for this oversize oblong sheet format include flyers, banners, diagrams, and infographics.

The potential for using longer pages for your projects is really limited only by your budget and your imagination.

Bindery Expansion

It takes more than just our fleet of six digital presses to consistently meet Copresco's overnight delivery promise.

So, we expanded our bindery with a new booklet maker that gives us more added muscle for the production of your saddle bound books, calendars and publications. Saddle binding is also a good choice for thin booklets, brochures and small catalogs.

An Old Timer

Copresco was recognized as one of the oldest companies in the suburban region on a Business Anniversaries list published by the Daily Herald Business Ledger.

Speaking of Copresco's lengthy business history, check out the sidebar story about the beginning of our 30th anniversary celebration.

Many Thanks

As Copresco concludes a busy and gratifying year, we thank you again for your support and the opportunity to work with you in a mutually beneficial business partnership.

Happy Holidays

All of us at Copresco wish you and yours a happy holiday season and look forward to sharing a prosperous 2017 with you.

A Revolutionary Idea

When Copresco opened for business in a one-room Wheaton office in 1987, there was no email, iPhones or Android devices.

Desktop publishing was just in its infancy. Offset printing was king.

Large printers running huge four-color jobs made the headlines in the graphic arts media.

A Digital Future

Steve Johnson had a much better idea. He believed that the future for printing was in digital technology and printing on-demand.

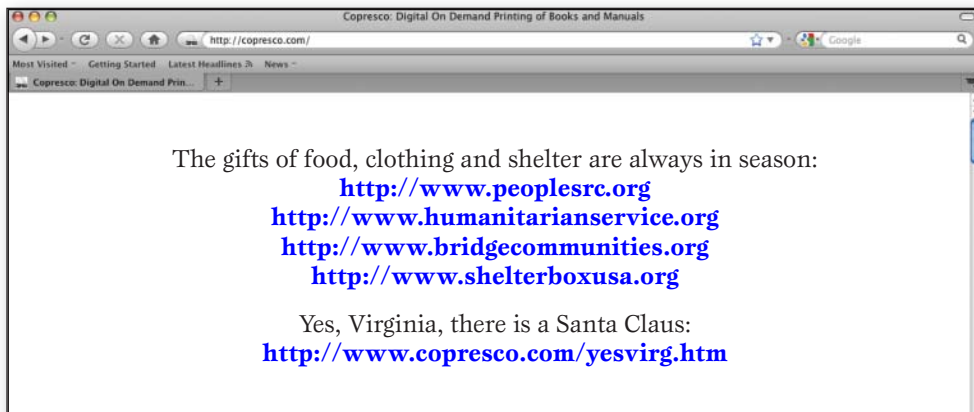

Steve formed an organization called Copies Overnight, specializing in the exceptionally fast turnaround of books and publications.

In future Overnight Lite issues, we will tell you how this revolutionary idea took hold and made Copresco the King of the Hill in digital printing.

Our Holiday Plans

Copresco will be closed on Monday, December 26 for Christmas and on Monday, January 2 for the New Year's Day holiday.

In the bustle of holiday shopping, a woman discovered her handbag was missing. Minutes later an honest little boy returned it to her. “That’s funny,” she said as she checked its contents, “when I lost my bag there was a $20 bill in it. Now there are 20 $1 bills.” “It’s okay—that was me, lady,” the boy quickly replied. “The last time I found a purse, the owner didn’t have change for a reward.”

Just wondering: If it’s zero degrees outside, and it will be twice as cold outside tomorrow—how cold will it be?

Q: What do you call a bankrupt Santa?
A: Saint Nickel-less.

Q: What’s the difference between the Christmas alphabet and the ordinary alphabet?

A: The Christmas alphabet has Noel.

My grandfather got a pacemaker. Now when he sits on the front porch and a pretty girl walks by, the garage door goes up.

“What comes after eight?” the kindergarten teacher asked a little five-year-old. “Nine,” he replied. “My daddy taught me.” “Good! And what’s after nine?” “Ten!” “Your daddy taught you well,” the teacher said. “Do you know what comes after ten?” The boy replied, “Jack!”

Q: What did one angel say to the other?
A: “Halo there!”

“What are you charged with?” the judge asked the defendant. “Doing my holiday shopping too early,” the man replied. “That’s no offense,” said the judge. “How early?” The prisoner mumbled, “Before the store opened.”

The preacher pulled a church visitor aside. “You need to join the Army of the Lord!” “I’m already in the Army of the Lord, Pastor,” the man replied. “Well then,” the pastor said, “How come I only see you at Christmas and Easter?” The visitor whispered ominously, “Secret Service.”

Q: What’s Christmas called in England?
A: Yule Britannia!

A smile is a curve that can set things straight.

Q: What did Adam say on the day before Christmas?

Q: “It’s Christmas, Eve!”

Q: What music did the Pilgrims like?
A: Plymouth Rock.
